OATS ARE THE #1 MILK ALTERNATIVE

Oat-based products are gaining popularity among consumers due to their great flavour and sustainable nature. Another reason is the absence of lactose, milk proteins, and soy components, as well as the lower calorie and fat content compared to most other plant-based drinks. Oat products are therefore the most popular milk alternative, a fact supported by retail sales.

More vegan options in restaurants, canteens, cafés & co.

The number of plant-based food service establishments in Germany has risen significantly in recent years. And the trend is rising. Additionally, a variety of veggie options entered the menus of regular restaurants, student services and communal catering. Many cafés now also offer at least one type of plant-based milk for coffee lovers.

More and more vegan, vegetarian and flexitarian consumers

According to the Federal Ministry of Food and Agriculture in Germany (BMEL), 8 % of the German population was vegetarian and 2 % vegan in 2024.

Almost half of the German population (41 %) considered themselves flexitarian – and consciously opted for less animal-based food.

Oat products are more popular than ever!

WHY OATS?
